

Anusha and Rosy are busy dressing up a Barbie doll helped by Ragini to fix the head band.

Selvi is struggling to fix the last piece of puzzle with rapt attention refusing even to exchange glances with visitors.

Other group comprising 5 students are giving final touches to a painting of a scene in a village which they have drawn.

The other group is learning Nouns through a game on the smart board.

A Day at the Resource Room, Seva Sadan, Chennai.

Why the Foundation reaches out, with Happiness as its objective.

One group has occupied the fag end of the room where quietly they are copying notes.

This room is vibrant with colorful charts, drawings and paintings of minions, Tom and Jerry, sponge balls and aesthetically decorated discs hanging from the ceiling all around . The furniture in different geometrical shapes with light shades of green, brown and red capture your attention.

A typical scene when you enter a room on a working day in the school.

This is the Resource room in The Madras Seva Sadan Higher Secondary School, set up in association with the A K Palicha Foundation.

This is a separate, remedial classroom in a school where students with educational disabilities, such as specific learning disabilities, are given direct, specialized instruction and academic remediation and assistance with homework and related assignments as individuals or in groups. The Resource Room also has materials for teambuilding and structured leadership activities. Board
